STOCK MARKET BRIGHTENING OVER THE PROSPECT IN NEW YORK.

Subscriptions for an amount greater than the entire issue of $50,000,000 of government lives will be made by a number of banks and other financial institutions of this city. tucluding some foreign capital. This was flecided to-day after a number of confertrices, and it was settled also that the members of this agreement should make their bids separately, but at exactly the same price. This action insures the success of the loan, which is now certain to be oversubscribed. The figures which bankers in the agreement will bid for the bonds are not made public, but, it is understood, will allow a good profit, to the government. some of the banks who hold the largest gold reserve have agreed to furnish gold to subscribers to the amount of $30,000,000, and other banks announce that they will supply their customers with all the gold they may need for the purposes of the loan without drawing upon the United States treasury. Gold is being shipped from San Francisco and other cities of the Union and from Canada to this city for the account of intending subscribers to the loan, $1,000,000 alone coming through the bank of Montreal. It is to be seen from this that the situation is brightening, and that it is fair to assume that as a result of the loan the treasury gold reserve will be brought up to or very near the hundred-million mark. Not until about the close of business on the Stock Exchange, yesterday, were the very circumstances made public, and the current of speculation was not therefore influenced thereby. At the opening of business the share market was strong ing of business the share market was strong in sympathy with the improved tone of American securities on the London Exchange and there was foreign buying of the international stocks, both of which facts led to a covering movement on the facts led to a covering movement on the part of the shorts and sent prices upward a fraction, the grangers joined in the procession. The market, however, had not recovered from the shock of Wednesday's scaling of the Burlington dividend and the consequent break in prices, and the advance of this morning was not maintained for long. A reaction followed in which the gains were almost entirely lost and throughout the day the trading was inwhich the gains were almost entirely lost and throughout the day the trading was irregular, recoveries and declines followed each other in rapid succession up to the close, which was marked by depression, the final trading being quite heavy in tone. The grangers attracted the chief speculative attention and were very largely dealt in, but fluctuated within much narrower limits than on yesterday. Burlington rose imits than on yesterday. Burlington rose in reacted advanced in highest and on the day. Sugar receded advanced in hook of the highest and a rally of highest selling with only a rally of highest selling with only a rally of highest advanced in hook of hook and he liquidation of a block of stock at a time when there were no supporting orders: sales of the stock were made at 151@151% seller 60, against 153 regular. The bond market was generally firm during the day. The Atchison issues were heavily sold and betrayed weakness, but in the final dealings they scored a slight recovery. These securities figured for $596,000 in the transactions out of a total of $1,336,000 for the day. The main changes on the in the transactions out of a total of $1,336,-000 for the day. #### LOCAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE. Trade Fairly Good with Prices Steady in Most Lines. Merchants, as a rule, on the wholesale streets and on Commission row say that for the last few days business has been good. Not that it has exceeded the volume of former periods, but that it is a decided improvement over that of many months past. The month of November bids fair to reach in its business the expectations of the wholesale men. On Commission row the business is not as satisfactory. There has been an abundance of everything in the fruit and vegetable way. Prices have been low and people slow in laying in winter supplies. Some choice fruit is on the market. Poultry is weak at quotations and market overstocked at all points. The weather is so mild that it is difficult to keep prices of eggs at present figures. In fact, they are weak at recent reductions.

Provisions are not moving briskly, the re-

laction in prices from week to week lead- | 3.50

Let the Republic Be Consistent. To the Editor of the Indianapolis Journal. The refusal of Secretary Gresham to join with England in an effort to restore peace between China and Japan places this country in a peculiar attitude. Secretary Gresham, in replying to Mr. Goschen, of the British embassy, is quoted as saying that "the policy of the United States is to avoid any entanglement with foreign al-Department reconcile its present attitude toward European monarchies with the stand it took in the Samoan treaty? In that treaty the United States entered into the most compromising and entangling al-liance with not only Great Britain, but also with Germany, and the three great powers, by that treaty restored to the Samoan throne a brutal, savage negro. What interest have we in this little Asiatic island as compared with our large and growing commerce with Japan and China? In 1893 the total exports from Samoa to this country amounted to only 398. And yet this country has allied itself with two colonizing monarchies in setting up a protectorate over the insignificant lit tle island of Samoa. Surely we, as a great Republic, should be consistent. Either we hould join hands with Queen Victoria aiding her to safely intrench herself in Corea, or else we should break off that other mesalliance into which the wily Bis-marck and the British Foreign Office ican agreement to which a President of this Republic ever affixed his signature.

Opposes Temperances Legislation. To the Editor of the Indianapolis Journal: I am interested in the welfare of the Republican party in Indiana and am anxious that the Legislature make no mistakes. There should not be a bili introduced touching on the cause of temperance. I have heard it intimated that a bill would be introduced submitting the question of local option to the people at the next general election. I think this would be a vital mistake, for although the question would be finally submitted to the people, the Republican party would be responsible for getting it before the people. No Republican who i interested in the success of the party can favor such a bill. It is evident to any close observer of politics that the Repubicans of Indiana, Iowa and Kansas have paid dearly for catering to a few temperance cranks; I say few, for the great mass of voters believe that all temperance re-form should come through the efforts and good works of the churches, the W. C. T. U. and the reform societies. The real friend of the temperance cause can readily see that the cause is injured and handicapped by bringing it into politics. The Germans are with us now. Most of them believe in a protective tariff and want to vote with us, and we must not drive them back. I never drink a drop of anything myself and am a red-hot Methodist, but cannot keep quiet and see the cause of temperance injured and the Republican party defeated to satisfy a few hundred people.

ELMER E. LOCKWOOD.

Poseyville, Ind., Nov. 21. Lineal Descendant of John Knox. To the Editor of the Indianapolis Journal: In to-day's Journal, under the heading "About People and Things," a paragraph states that Bro. Philip, of Notre Dame, is "the only lineal descendant of John Knox." If by "lineal" descendant is meant in the male line, this statement is an error, as the two sons of John Knox died without issue. Knox had three daughters, and the line from two of them is believed to be extinct. The third daughter, Marga-ret, married John Welsh, minister of Ayr, and their descendants are still traceable. Amongst them may be mentioned the Earl of Aberdeen (Governor-general of Canada) the Rev. Dr. Witherspoon, of Louisville, Ky.; the Rev. J. M. Rodgers, of London-derry, Ireland, and many others in Ulster, the United States and elsewhere. No per-son bearing the surname of Knox can claim descended in the male line from John Knox. I state this because so many people named Knox assert the claim. If Brother Philip is descended from John Knox I know of hundreds who are also descended from the great reformer, but, of course, in the

BEARISH ESTIMATE

FOR NEXT WEEK'S VISIBLE CAUSED WHEAT TO LOSE AN ADVANCE.

The Market Opened with a Gain of 3-Sc, but Lost It All-Corn and Pork Closed Weak.

CHICAGO, Nov. 22 .- The anxiety of holders of December wheat to cancel their contracts and the shadow of Monday's expected increase in the visible were the bearish features of to-day's market. Otherwise the fresh news was bullish. At the close there was a loss of %c. Corn was steady until near the close when it weakened a trifle, closing unchanged. Provisions opened firm and closed weak. Oats closed unchanged. The temper of the wheat speculators changed again to the bull side this morning. The Russian crop of wheat was officially declared to be approximately 64,000,000 bushels less than the year before and Beerbohm cabled that the Argentine crop would be less than that of last year. Those two items started wheat at an advance of %c. compared with yesterday's closing price. The Cincinnati Price Current said wheat feeding continued liberal, and estimated the invisible reserves and stocks in sight in this country at 47,000,000 bushels less than they were a year ago. December was weaker than May, the near approach of delivery day causing a general desire to liquidate. Minneapolis and Duluth received 802 carloads, against 598 last year. Primary receipts were heavy. The opening cablegrams were firm and the closings weak. The latter came in at a moment when the market was ready to respond to bear news and they were the occasion of the lowest prices of the day. May opened at 594c bid, sold sparingly at 59%c, worked gradually down to 59c, then recovered to 591/c, after which the price dropped to 58%c. About an hour from the close the price was 59c. Selling out of long December wheat was one of the weak features of the pit trading. May closed at 58%c.

Corn was very dull but rather firm most of the day. A good many buying orders were in the market for May corn at 49c. the receipts were 459 carloads, instead 510 as estimated yesterday, and of the total only 40 carloads were contract. The latter feature of the inspection was one of the strengthening points. The market varied very little in price during the day, but got a trifle limp near the close. May opened at 49%c, and after barely touching 49%c it alternated after that until within half an hour from the close between 49c bid and 49%c sellers. As the end of the session and 49%c sellers. As the end of the session approached it got below 49c, closing at 48%c.

Trading in oats was very dull. A compar-Trading in oats was very dull. A comparatively steady feeling existed in sympathy with the likewise well-balanced condition of the corn market. May started at 32½c and sold at 32%c, where it closed.

Provisions opened firm but closed weak. The run of hogs was 6,000 head less than estimated yesterday, and to that and estimated receipts of only 35,000 for to-morrow was due the early bullishness. The packers turned sellers and prices went down. January pork closed 5c lower, January lard .07½c lower and January ribs .07½c lower.

No. 8 white soft declined 1/sc, and all other soft white sugars declined one and one-sixteenth, with the exception of Nos. 4, 5 and 6. The break was caused by a largely oversold market. Recently the trade has been selling right and left, until the jobbers are overstocked. The demand has fallen off, and it looks as if prices would go back to where they were before the recent advance. At present there is no indication that Spreckles will start up, owing to the reaction in the market.
